Barakaites in Armed Attack Flee Boston Mtg. Bloodied

By Don Baier

Oct. 1. SLAVE LABOR DAY - Ninety thousand welfare mothers in the Aid to Dependent Children program were scheduled to become eligible for the forced-labor Work Relief Employment Program today. U.S. Labor Party organizers against slave labor have set it back a month.

Without pausing to celebrate this victory, Labor Party campaigners across the country continued to organize marches, rallies and demonstrations against the Rockefeller-Beame scalp plan - now scheduled for implementation on Nov. 1 - and similar recycling programs in other cities.

In New York, the week's organizing was highlighted by successful marches through central Harlem and the South Bronx ghettos. The city was plastered with posters showing Labor Party mayoral candidate Tony Chaikin, charging Abe Beame, the erstwhile Democratic candidate, off the streets.

The "Get Beame Hotline" in the Labor Party offices began ringing today in response to those posters and to Chaikin's call broadcast a dozen times a day over stations WINS and WCBS: "Tell us when you see Abe "Slave Labor." Beame attempting to campaign. We will send out a truth squad Call 865-9966 now!"

And the Beame machine began to crack under the pressure. One Beame staffer cheerfully admitted what Jelley Beamer can't bring himself to say to Chaikin's face - that the workfare program is an attack on municipal unions.

In Washington D.C. police harassment turned a socialist campaign appearance at the payments office of the city's food stamp center into a major election rally for the Maryland congressional and gubernatorial campaigns of the U.S. Labor Party. At the height of the rally, Charles Henry, candidate for Congressman from the Seventh District, addressed an audience of 200 black and white construction workers and 10 welfare recipients and social workers on the recycling of the work force and the international food crisis.

*In Chicago Bill Engdahl, USLP candidate for U.S. Senator, kicked off from a\n
Copp at Washington D.C. food stamp center moves swiftly to try and suppress Labor Party candidate Charles Henry. Labor Party organizers are exposing the capitalists' slave labor plans in continuing nationwide campaign.

Latin American Regimes Hunt Revolutionaries

by G. Guich and Daniel Sol

"I just want people to know that if I am killed," said Jose Rucci, Argentina's principal labor leader and a strong right-wing Peronista. "in a recent interview, "it will be the work of filthy Marxists and Trotskyites. It will be the People of the Revolutionary Army."" Rucci's "forbearance" was confirmed in blood last week as the 48-year-old secretary general of the General Confederation of Labor was machine-gunned to death in a quiet Buenos Aires street. The People's Revolutionary Army was immediately blamed for the murder, in a clear attempted framework of that guerrilla group by Peronists.

The death of long-time cohort Rucci was a small price for Peron to pay in order to carry out his long-planned extermination drive against the left. Already the left-Peronist sanitation union in Cordoba has been bombarded by rightists. Armed assassins burst into the apartment of Enrique Grandelp and murdered this leader of the wing of the Justified Peronista. And Peronist henchmen came out with a major statement promising a "head-on struggle with Marxism" in response to the Rucci murder. We must engage in an ideological purge of all the organizations of the Peronist movement," he threatened, thus insuring that the wave of anti-left violence will swell in the weeks ahead.

The faction-ridden Bolivian government, a plot allegedly set by Marxists and Trotskyites, in national capitalist class in a number of other Latin American countries began to take advantage of the particular conjuncture that their Chilean victory has afforded them. They are stepping up attacks on their own local sectors of the working class.

* The faction-ridden Bolivian bourgeoisie is now uniting around a renewed offensive against the left. At the height of the rally, Charles Henry, candidate for Congressman from the Seventh District, addressed an audience of 200 black and white construction workers and 10 welfare recipients and social workers on the recycling of the work force and the international food crisis.
Nairobi IMF Smokescreens Secret S.F. Conf

The well-publicized diversement raised by the leading finance minister in the capi-lar sector at Nairobi two weeks ago served as a cover for the real poli­ icy-making capital clique, which met in San Francisco only the week before. A vacillating Nixon cabinet came to the Nairobi Annual Meeting of the World Bank and the Interna­tionaional Monetary Fund (IMF) led by Treasury Secretary George Shultz, Nixon had already submitted his inner summer agreement to sacrifice narrow national fascism for a uni­ sed U.S.-Europe-Japanese monetary and bank­ ization of the world bourgeoisie emerged with a clear, comprehensive program: tighten­ international credit and then recycling the workforce.

Only one week before the Nairobi meeting, the select group consisting of the heads of the major international banks and multinational cor­ bran to San Francisco for a week of secret meetings among the international in­ ancial community. Only members of the class-conscious bourgeoireviewed, with the significant participation of a top technologile. Indeed, it is reported that large numbers of ministers boycotted the meeting. It is not yet known how close the connection is between the Mau Mau and this modern Black Liberation, in which the Fugaddy, or the notion of violence, is no longer needed.

At the Harvard meeting, the Mau Mau appealed to Professor Win­ shelah. Professor Win­ shelah was also an amdy for the de­
African couotries. forcibly ejected from the union Other ranking DC

Incor­
ists' most sophiated anti­ head injuries. All the thugs who

r. Upon examining wallets New Solidarity's intelligence sources revealed that Gotbaum was not to be found to be 'unarmed.'

At the forum, a Swahili school attacked the protection.

Two Revolutionary Youth Movement organ­
sers, including S. Scott, a Maasai leader, were invited to the meeting. Scott and his friends began struggling and shouting about “white boys.” When a Mau Mau threw a punch, Labor Party de­fenders were quickly ejected from the meeting.

As the main representa­
lary of the Mau Mau, Tuirid, was de­ defeated, the campus police, accompanied by the Cambridge city police, suddenly reerals and swarmed over the building. They hustled every­ out, locked the door, then left the deserted courtyard before the Labor Party got to them. They were not to be invived in a riot, so they were not to be reunions for some sort of counter­ strikers, but their black nationalist­ read for good, and no further assaults were asserted.

Two Revolutionary Youth Movement organ­ ers were treated at a Cambridge hospital for knife wounds. They were not to be expected to Suffer any damage.

“Professor” Terrell picked up a chair. It was taken away from him and later broken over him.

“Are you ready to trade weapon

sis for a capitalistic policy.

leaders of the Bank of America mit­
tees boldly challenging

apparent in the deal that the ma­
Society for College and University Workers.

A small group of black students was ejected and kicked down the Nairobi door.

Talk el Alim, who stayed behind under campus police protection.

Clutching his cracked ribs and bleeding from his ear, Amin stumbled incoherently for five minutes, “I'm proud to be a racist.”

President of DC 31 officials are being bewildered by Gotbaum's new support for slave labor. They are to meet with the Labor Party – in one of the most significant events in the whole labor movement. The Labor Party will continue. The more the better.

Hearne’s triumphant trip to East­

for their roles in the offi­

campus security guards. Gotbaum was not to be

be found to be ‘unarmed.’

At the forum, a Swahili school attacked the protection.

The Swahili school, which had been told that the union would not protect them, had decided to take matters into their own hands. They had been told that the police would not protect them.

The forum ended with a lively debate on the black students about Baraka's stated goals and the concepts of revolution.

Baraka's goal is to create a new world, where the politicians of the world will not act. The disorder – almost paralysis – of the political aspect of the Economic Community is further evidence of the world bourgeoisie's inability to repair their framework of economic society to impose its concepts upon others (i.e., a suicidally narrow rational fascist like ‘Nazis’).

Met the real world that is beginning to expose roles which although may be familiar to them, may nevertheless begin to fear or to have the world in their way. With the Internisterial Committee's bold challeng­ing every facet of this policy, they will have to move more quickly behind the scenes, leaving public plans to the Nairobi bash to their PR men.

Barakaites Meet a Bloody Rebuff in Armed Boston Attack

Continued from page 3

The Mau Mau member met face to face with the police, who were reader the Union's Council of Bureaucrats Di... ided in October. The... security bureaucrats arc awed and fa!­

on Baraka. The Labor Party demands that he refor the real issues behind the star­

Beame was not to be deception.

At Black Cheyney State College, the campus security guards connived to prevent the Labor Party from giving a forum on Baraka. The Labor Party petitioned the university for a forum and was granted a permit.

The forum was scheduled to be held. Then a dean and several security guards intervened and threatened to call the state police and have the students arrested for trespassing. The forum was cancelled, but organizing at Cheyney State will continue.

Barakaites Meet a Bloody Rebuff in Armed Boston Attack

Continued from page 3

At the Sept. 25 delegates' assembly meeting – which was called to celebrate the pact between the union and Barakaite– four Labor Party members – "the only opposition." The meeting was attended with the significant forever. Leaders in labor and indus­

by Dennis Speed, U.S. Labor and Bleeding from the head,

Hilms.

--w­-dau

As the main speech by Revolutionary Youth Movement organ­ ers, including S. Scott, a Maasai leader, were invited to the meeting. Scott and his friends began struggling and shouting about “white boys.” When a Mau Mau threw a punch, Labor Party de­fenders were quickly ejected from the meeting.

As the main representa­
lary of the Mau Mau, Tuirid, was de­
defeated, the campus police, accompanied by the Cambridge city police, suddenly re­

"Professors" Terrell picked up a chair. It was taken away from him and later broken over him.

"Are you ready to trade weapon

sis for a capitalistic policy.

leaders of the Bank of America mit­
tees boldly challenging

apparent in the deal that the ma­
Society for College and University Workers.

A small group of black students was ejected and kicked down the Nairobi door.

Talk el Alim, who stayed behind under campus police protection.

Clutching his cracked ribs and bleeding from his ear, Amin stumbled incoherently for five minutes, “I'm proud to be a racist.”

President of DC 31 officials are being bewildered by Gotbaum's new support for slave labor. They are to meet with the Labor Party – in one of the most significant events in the whole labor movement. The Labor Party will continue. The more the better.

Hearne’s triumphant trip to East­

for their roles in the offi­

campus security guards. Gotbaum was not to be

be found to be ‘unarmed.’

At the forum, a Swahili school attacked the protection.

The Swahili school, which had been told that the union would not protect them, had decided to take matters into their own hands. They had been told that the police would not protect them.

The forum ended with a lively debate on the black students about Baraka's stated goals and the concepts of revolution.

Barakaites Meet a Bloody Rebuff in Armed Boston Attack

Continued from page 3

At the Sept. 25 delegates' assembly meeting – which was called to celebrate the pact between the union and Barakaite– four Labor Party members – "the only opposition." The meeting was attended with the significant forever. Leaders in labor and indus­

by Dennis Speed, U.S. Labor and Bleeding from the head,

Hilms.